

Transforming into the future

Mini-conference, June 17, from 14-17

On June 17 we invite you to join a conversation about transformational leadership and why it will be a key factor for sustainability, well-being and the ability to compete in the coming decades.

*Session 1: Becoming purpose-driven, the case of IMPACT Extend with Thomas Obelitz

*Session 2: The role of personal leadership transformation in the future by Jakob Beck

*Session 3: Panel debate on the challenges of new ways of working and how to lead transformation, moderated by Jakob Beck

The future leadership panel

Jonas Nygreen

Commercial Lead,
Abzu

Jonas is a co-owner of Abzu, a self-organising AI tech company. A curious example from Abzu is that each employee are responsible for part of the budget. Previously, Jonas worked with strategy as a consultant.

Rikke Helbo Kjær

eSteering Leader
at Danfoss Power
Solutions

Rikke is a Human Resources Professional and leader in eSteering – a unique self-managing and agile unit inside the larger Danfoss corporation. She has played a key role in eSteering's transformative journey which is now in its fourth year.

Thomas Obelitz

Senior Partner and
Co-CEO of IMPACT
Extend

Thomas leads IMPACT Extend, a digital marketing bureau with 3x growth and 35 employees (mid 2021). Over 1,5 year Extend has developed a deep focus on purpose-driven structures and culture. In this process Thomas has also practiced transformational leadership.

Berit Kuhr

Director,
Bankdata

Berit leads the Investment and Finance area at Bankdata with 100 people across 4 departments. She has been part of Bankdata's company-wide transformation from traditional to a fully agile organization.

Conference facilitator

Jakob Beck

Jakob is founder and partner at MøllerBeck. He has 12 years of experience with business and personal transformation, working with leaders from both Fortune 500s, SMEs and scale-ups.

A key approach in Jakob's work is to facilitate breakthrough performance by supporting leaders to move through fear, foster honest conversations and build commitment, accountability and choice.

Hosted by MøllerBeck

MøllerBeck is a Copenhagen-based consulting company working with transformation and leadership.

Committed to leave the world better than we found it we support leaders to lead with courage and find new ways to create meaningful impact.

Working in the space between organisational structures and culture, we help build purpose-driven, human-centred and high-performing organisations.
